

Terence Keel is an award-winning Professor at the University of California, Los Angeles where he holds appointments in the Department of African American Studies and the UCLA Institute for Society and Genetics. He has written widely about race, religion, science, law, and democracy. Keel is the Founding Director of the Lab for BioCritical Studies—an interdisciplinary space committed to studying the interactions of society and human biology. Keel also serves as the Advisor for Structural Competency and Innovation within the UCLA David Geffen School of Medicine. He is the author of The Coroner's Silence: Death Records and the Hidden Victims of Police Violence, Divine Variations: How Christian Thought Became Racial Science, and co-editor of Critical Approaches to Science and Religion.

For more information, please visit www.terencekeel.com

(see headshot below)

